

"Greg Grant's knowledge, professional experience and ability to produce high quality players is unmatched. He is a true gift and asset to our student athletes of our great state of Michigan!"

Mike Jackson

Assistant Coach - University of Michigan Men's Basketball

"Coach Grant stands alone from the other trainers in that he motivates players like a coach, and not just a paid trainer. His unique style in determining what a player needs to improve on and how to achieve success through hard work is very impressive. I would recommend Coach Grant to any player that wants to improve his game as well as their mental toughness."

Mike Boening

Director - Michigan Shock AAU Club

"Greg's tremendous experiences from playing college basketball at the University of Detroit Mercy to professionally overseas is a tremendous asset to any young player who comes in contact with his teaching:"

Ray McCallum

Head Coach - University of Detroit Mercy Men's Basketball

"I have known Coach Greg Grant since the days when he suited up for the Detroit Titan men's basketball team. As a player, he was extremely intelligent on the floor, energetic, and his teams were always very successful. There was no doubt that he would go on to play at the professional level and now that his playing career is over, it is truly a gift to the young boys and girls in the area that he is offering his expertise in the way of personal training. I would highly recommend Coach Greg Grant to any player that would like to develop their skills in order to compete at any level because his experience and ability to teach the game of basketball are second to none."

Autumn Rademacher

Head Coach - University of Detroit Mercy Women's Basketball

"Coach Grant implements similar training methods we use in the NBA with an energetic and progressive approach. By stressing fundamentals and athletic performance, he helps players develop their full potential."

Scott Perry

Vice President of Basketball Operations

Detroit Pistons

"Greg Grant is an impressive person, as well as an outstanding athlete. His career in basketball has proven that he possesses the physical attributes, as well as mental toughness necessary to achieve great success. He has lived the experiences he is training others, and there is no other resource for such thorough and dynamic instruction in basketball. Without a doubt, he is the best mentor for the young aspiring athlete."

Coach Grant has been fortunate to travel throughout thirty countries in Europe, Asia and South America, as well as playing throughout the U.S. professionally in the ABA, and NBA pre-season camps and summer leagues. This experience has provided him with exposure to a variety of philosophies related to the teaching and learning of the game of basketball.

Throughout his career, Coach Grant has earned the reputation of being fundamentally sound defensively and offensively, being able to score from anywhere on the perimeter as well as in the paint. His statistics demonstrate record-breaking blocked shots and rebounding. Among basketball circles, players remember his forceful "in your face" dunks, breaking three backboards in the process!

GREG GRANT AS A COACH

Coach Grant is a strong leader. At 6'10" tall and 260 pounds, his ability to capture his students' attention is obvious. He has an innate ability to communicate with young people of all ages, boys and girls alike. While his students can expect to improve on many fronts, their confidence, aggressiveness and court presence will be among the most affected. This is attained by solid coaching in fundamentals, mental toughness and assertiveness.

Coach Grant believes that basketball in many ways can teach life-skills. How a player trains and handles himself on the court can carry over into situations where discipline, confidence and competitiveness are required.

Coach Grant's knowledge of the game has been gathered by years of training and playing with some of the best in basketball, not merely by watching videos or attending a coaching clinic. Because Coach Grant has lived the basketball experience, he knows the feeling of "making a move" on the court and can literally walk a player through it.

During instruction, Coach Grant implements more of a hands-on approach, rather than side-line observation. He runs, defends, and trains with his students. Results are seen after one training session.
